

A 'snapshot' view of the project:

dhruva.tv – conscious television, is a production company and an internet video platform in the form of an online television (with different channels, video formats and content) to help raise our collective consciousness.

DHRUVA.TV
TELEVISIÓN CONSCIENTE

The main players:

Gibrán Armijo, leading and overseeing operations
Jalil Armijo, responsible for overall production
Magnus Celander, internet platform
Carlos Fernandez, creative director
Adrian Pallares, audio, camera and grip

Location: Spain, starting with a regional focus but looking forward to being global

What do you need:

We need 3 things in the following order:

1. Video production projects (current main source for income)
2. Existing video content (to add to the media library)
3. Finance or an angel investor

What do you offer:

- ✓ First, our services to create quality material for your organization, person or activity.
- ✓ Second, soon an alternative portal (an internet TV) to spread your content and/or message.
- ✓ Third, the opportunity to exchange experiences and enrich each others personal, professional and spiritual life.
